Tells Its Employees That It Expects Them To Go Back To Work At Once.

TROUBLE STARTS, BUT IS STOPPED

Dock Workers At Duluth Clear The Situation By Returning To Work Tomorrow Morning--Mines
Will Be Opened.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, July 31.—It was learned today from authoritative quarters that the steel corporation in the matter of its strike in the northwest has decided to begin operations immediately.
It has notified the men that any of the old men who want to come back will be taken back without any prejudice whatever.
As to taking up with the men the question of wages, the company's position is that it entered into an agreement with the men in May as to what wages they were to receive for the season of 1907.
The company expects a large number of the men will recognize this agreement and will show their good faith by returning to work under it.
If this is done, the company states it will stand ready at any time to take up with its men all questions of mutual interest that may arise from time to time.
Hibbing, Minn., July 31.—Six hundred strikers assembled at daylight today to start a demonstration and to stop all work at the mines in the Hibbing district. They were stopped by the sheriff and ten deputies and were driven back to town.
At Duluth,
Duluth, July 31.—The one dock strikers have voted to return to work and operations will be resumed tomorrow. This is regarded as a breaking of the strike. It is believed the steel corporation will now reopen the mines.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., July 31.—William A. Taggart, aged 80 years, peacefully passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Tuller, in this city this morning at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. Taggart was one of Rock county's oldest and most respected pioneers, having lived in this county for over 60 years. The deceased was born in Portland county, New York, on September 21, 1827. In 1815 he came west, settling on a farm one mile southwest of this city, where he had resided up to the time of his death. He was united in marriage to Miss Loretta Arnold five years after coming to this state. She preceded him in death 15 years since. ## BEGIN TO BELIEVE THE SUICIDE STORY

Specialist Found Mrs. Pet McGill
Died of Chloroform—Some Arsonic Is Discovered.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Clinton, Ill., July 31.—The report of the medical experts who made an analysis of the contents of the stomach of Mrs. Pet McGill, the first wife of Fred H. McGill, was received here today by state's Attorney Miller, who announced the report is to the effect Mrs. McGill died from chloroform poisoning. A trace of arsenic was also found. The belief is growing here that Mrs. McGill did commit suicide. Lot H. Herrick, a special assistant to the state's attorney, is preparing the evidence for a special grand jury call, and is credited with the following statement: "The chemist's report does not weaken our case. We contend that a suicide compact existed between Fred McGill and his first wife. The law makes it murder if one person agrees with another to commit suicide and deliberately deceives the other person. If one of the persons agreeing to the compact fails to carry out his agreement it is manslaughter. If deliberate deceit is shown, it is murder. That will be our case."

DIES RATHER THAN TELL GIRL'S STORY

Former Army Officer Took His Life
When Summoned to Appear Before Coroner's Jury.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Colorado Springs, Colo., July 31.—Mrs. R. Rumbaugh, who shot him- self late yesterday, rather than testify at the inquest over the body of his beloved Miss Laura Matthews, died early this morning at St. Francis hospital.
Coroner Richardson stated this afternoon that in his opinion both Laura Matthews and Amos R. Rumbaugh committed suicide. He said he believed Miss Matthews killed herself because of an unrequited love on the part of C. A. Coey, a Chicago mill-homier, and that Rumbaugh, who had been drinking heavily, had killed himself because of an infatuation for the girl.

WHAT WE HEAR ABOUT NOW
Doctor—You ought to go to the hospital for a month; where have you been?
Patient—Been on one of those restful summer vacations.

To-night the $2,000,000 bridge recently completed over the Charles river, connecting Boston with Cambridge, is to be formally dedicated with imposing ceremonies. The bridge will be brilliantly illuminated and several thousand dollars' worth of fireworks will be discharged.

GOTHAM HAT MAKERS SETTLED STRIKE

Opens Shops. Would Have Resulted in Strike Involving 20,000 Men.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, July 31.—There now appears very little possibility of any general strike tomorrow among the hat makers. The difficulty was over the open shop, which the National Fur Fell Hat Manufacturers' Association proposes to introduce. The strike if it had taken place would have involved about 20,000 men throughout the country, members of the United Hatters of America.

WRONG MAN TAKEN FOR THE PHYSICIAN

Neighbor Dragged Out of House and Hurried to Sick Room Instead of Doctor.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Pennsauken, Wis., July 31.—How would you like to be awakened from sweet slumber in the middle of the night, hauled into your clothes, half-dressed, half-undressed into a carriage, driven twelve miles into the country on pitch-dark roads, and when you reached the destination, find out you are the wrong man? Wouldn't it jar you?
That's what happened to Fred Brandt of this city the other night. Fred is a well-known son of a man, and when he was rudely awakened at 1 a. m. and told to hurry into a waiting carriage, while his companion quivered with anxiety, he obeyed without a word. He arrived at Joe Sperry's farm at 3:30 a. m. and was hurried into the house. Only when he was ushered into a sickroom did he understand.
Fred lives next door to Dr. Marsden. Sometimes a person will press the wrong door bell.

OKLAHOMA REPUBLICANS TO ACT ON CONSTITUTION

If They Put Ticket In Field Charter Adoption, Which Is Very Probable, Will Be Absolutely Assured.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Tulsa, I. T., July 31.—A majority of the 1,500 delegates and a large number of other visitors have already arrived here in anticipation of the first republican convention of the State of Oklahoma. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by J. L. Hanson, chairman of the state committee. The work of the convention, in the language of the official call, will be "to decide what will be the policy of the republican party relative to the rejection or adoption of the proposed constitution; to make a declaration of party principles; to elect a state committee and a chairman of the state central committee, and to nominate candidates for state officers, should the convention decide to make such nominations."
Talks among the delegates already on the scene show that there is still a considerable difference of opinion as to the wiser course for the party to pursue. Some are still outspoken in favor of the convention refusing to nominate a state ticket and preparing to fight the adoption of the constitution to the last ditch. Those in favor of following this course, however, are apparently not nearly so numerous as they were a month ago, before the Constitutional convention had reassembled and made changes in the document to meet the objections of a considerable element of the population.
From present indications the larger and more influential element of the party believe that the adoption of the constitution is inevitable and that the republicans should prepare to make the best of the situation by naming a state ticket and otherwise placing itself in a position to put up a good fight at the first election. Those in favor of this course are led by Governor Frantz, and if a state ticket is named Governor Frantz will in all probability head the ticket as candidate for first governor of the new state. Governor Frantz is looked upon as the representative of the Roosevelt administration in Oklahoma politics. He controls the federal patronage, and through him the president recently brought about a truce between the warring political factions of the territory.

Wisconsin Good Templars, in Convention at Waupaca, May Furnish Free
Legal Advice to Fight Liquor.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Waupaca, Wis., July 31.—Visitors from far and near gathered today at the Camp Cleghorn assembly grounds to take part in the fifty-second annual session of the Wisconsin grand lodge of Good Templars. The formal opening takes place this evening and the proceedings will continue through the remainder of the week. The session promises to be the most important in the history of the state organization. It is probable that action will be taken to establish a legal department for the purpose of furnishing free legal advice to communities desiring to enforce the laws against the saloons. Another project to receive attention calls for the maintenance of a series of temperance schools in the form of lectures on the scientific phases of the temperance question. The reports to be presented to the grand lodge meeting show that the Good Templars now have over 200 branch organizations in Wisconsin, including a score or more working in the Scandinavian languages. The organizations bring a large share of the credit for bringing about prohibition in nearly 700 towns throughout the state, leave.

BRITT AND NELSON READY FOR FIGHT

Nelson Favorite in Betting—Mill May be Interfered With by Authorities.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—Trained to the hour and from all accounts, it is the battle of their lives, Britling Nelson and Jimmy Britt are awaiting the going to call them into the ring at the Auditorium tonight. Rumors are current that there may be some interference with the fight by the authorities, but the club has its permit and it is not believed that any action will be taken unless there is some evidence that the mill will not be on the square. As it is the biggest thing in the fighting line that has been pulled off hereabouts in a long time, excepting the much-advertised Burns-Squires fiasco, the bout has aroused a lively interest among ring followers and it is expected a big crowd will be on hand to witness the contest. While Nelson naturally rules the favorite in the betting there are many loyal followers of Britt who still believe he is a match for anyone of his weight and are willing to back their opinion with money, whoever comes out the winner it is the prevailing opinion among the close critics of the game that the fight should be a lively and interesting affair as long as it lasts. Jack Welch of this city will referee the contest.

OLD, OLD QUESTIONS AS TO OWNERSHIPS

Civic Federation Will Not Be Able to Report Any Failures in Past Few Months.

Chicago, Ill.—There will not be included in the report of the Civic Federation committee on the operation of municipal ownership plants which will be issued in a few days, the news of many failures throughout the middle west during the last six months because the committee had virtually completed its investigation by the first of the year.

These reports, however, cannot escape the attention of other investigators of the subject, because they occur in representative cities and are of such a character that they serve to enlighten advocates of municipal ownership regarding the results of such operations.

The Galena, Ill., lighting plant which has been operated for a number of years has been sold to a western syndicate for much less than the original cost and a contract made with the syndicate for furnishing light for twenty-five years. The plant never paid expenses and proved such an unprofitable investment that the citizens were glad to get rid of it.

The bankers and other moneyed men of Washington, Ind., met a few days ago and refused to advance money for the operation of the municipal lighting plant there. It has been the plaything of the political leaders, and it is so run down that an expert estimates it will cost $65,000 to make the necessary repairs. As the people have already expended large sums of money upon it without seeing the service improved or the cost of operation decrease they are now advocating the abandonment or sale of the plant and a contract for securing light from a private company.

The lighting plant of Topeka, Kas., continues to show such a steadily increasing deficit that the citizens are now clamoring for a change. They want better service and their taxes decreased.

An effort to establish a municipal water plant at Council Bluffs, Iowa, failed, as after a thorough investigation of the experience of other cities, where mismanagement and heavy cost resulted in failure, the city council gave the franchise to the private company again.

It has been necessary for the Iowa state legislature to pass a law in order to extricate Dubuque from its municipal ownership difficulties. Soon after the city acquired control of its water plants the trustees contracted a debt of $20,000 which they never reported. To sustain it taxes were increased. Now a law has been passed enabling the city to appoint new trustees and float new bonds.

The municipal water plant at Cedar Rapids has proved a costly experiment. The taxpayers are now paying as high a rate as they previously paid to the private company. They also pay the interest on the water bonds, the cost of maintenance and repairs, while $20,000 worth of property formerly taxed is now exempt because it is owned by the city.

The women of Polk, Iowa, organized to defeat the politicians' plan of establishing municipal ownership.

THE CORNET SOLO

"Love Me and the World Is Mine," accompanied by Pryor's band—on the Victor.

No ballad of recent years has met with such a great success as this powerful song by Ernest Ball. The beautiful melody is especially attractive as a cornet solo and it is played most expressively by Mr. Kencke.

This is only one of the splendid new August Records for the Victor Talking Machine. The August list is ready now, and it is by far the best of the summer.

We'll be glad to play any of the selections for you.

We are certainly excelling ourselves and everybody else in the present quality of Arbuckle's Ariosa Coffee.

No such quality of coffee can be sold out of a bag, bin or tin, or under any other name by anybody in this town, for anything near the same price.

That's a strong statement, but you can take our word for it, and we are the largest dealers in coffee in the world. Another thing—the egg coating on ARIOSA COFFEE does not improve its appearance but preserves the flavor and aroma.

TRUST BUSTING

The most popular man in the hearts of the American people today is President Roosevelt.

Why?

Because he stands for the "square deal" to the common people as well as to the corporations.

He takes the side of the people who need things and against the combinations that would take advantage of their needs, to extort undue gains.

These are days when lots of men find it to their profit to combine and raise prices.

MISS PETERSON HAS RESIGNED

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER RETIRES VOLUNTARILY.

39 YEARS IN THE OFFICE

Oldest in Point of Service Among Janesville Employees—Succeeded by John G. Hemming.

Miss M. Louise Peterson has resigned as assistant postmaster in the Janesville office and will retire at the close of today after more than thirty-nine years of active service in the employ of the postal department of the United States. For her successor Postmaster Charles L. Valentine has named John G. Hemming. He assumes his new duties tomorrow morning. The appointment will give general satisfaction in the community and the many friends of Mr. Hemming extend hearty congratulations.

Thirty-nine Years in Service

In point of service Miss Peterson is the oldest employe in the Janesville postoffice. She entered the postal employ in May of 1868 and served faithfully since. She began as general delivery clerk when the postmaster was held by Thomas J. Roper, a former pastor of Trinity church and father of William Roper, Sr. When in the latter seventies the late J. D. King resigned to become a postal inspector his place as assistant postmaster was given to Miss Peterson and she served in that capacity until every postmaster since. After entering the service Miss Peterson served two years under Mr. Roper, more than four years with William Bowen, more than eight years with H. A. Peterson, four years with Hamilton Richardson, one and a half years with Clarence Clark, four years with Charles E. Bowles, four years with A. O. Wilson, eight years with Oscar Nowlan and one and a half years with Charles L. Valentine.

In Three Different Offices

When Miss Peterson took up post-office work the office was located in the East Milwaukee street building now occupied by H. S. Thomsen as a saloon. At that time John G. Todd had a brewery in the basement and Miss Peterson remembers the unpleasant condition of the atmosphere occasioned by the fumes of brewing hops. Later O. B. Ford and William Macdonald, father of W. H. Macdonald, erected the West Milwaukee street block now used as drygoods store by T. P. Burns. This building was constructed for the postoffice and saw service as such until about five years ago when the Government erected the federal building here.

Well Known in Community

During these many years Miss Peterson's relations with the postmasters and general public have always been pleasant. There is not a woman in the city better acquainted with old residents of the town and no "home-comer" ever misses calling at the postoffice to renew old acquaintanceship. Every postmaster who has had her for assistant has appreciated her without any solicitation on the part of herself or her friends. When Mr. Valentine requested her she accepted on the agreement that she might resign at any time. Her resignation was handed in early this spring, but at the request of the postmaster she remained until the present, there being no substitute clerk on the waiting list to fill the vacancy occasioned by the advancement of Mr. Hemming.

"Book." The origin of the word "book" is perhaps known to few of us. Before paper came into use, our forefathers inscribed their letters on wood. The "boe" or "beech," a cleaved, white wood which was plentiful in northern Europe, was used for this purpose, and hence our word "book."

TO BUILD TWO KINDS OF ROADS

HALF MILE IN CLINTON AND HALF MILE IN DELOIT TOWNS.

ONE GRAVEL: ONE STONE

Government Experts Are Here—W. F. Palmer Took Engineer Over Ground in Auto.

George L. Cooley, assistant to the chief engineer of the government good roads department, has arrived in Janesville and is preparing to begin the work of constructing one mile of model road in Rock county. As both the towns of Beloit and Clinton appropriated a thousand dollars apiece to the work and the county board has given similar amounts to each town, one half mile of road will be constructed in each township. The Beloit road will be made of crushed stone and the Clinton road of gravel. Mr. Cooley visited the Kulechrocker ice company's gravel pit south of this city this morning in a view of examining the kind of gravel peculiar to this portion of the country. The work is to commence immediately as the machinery is now ready to unload and Mr. Cooley's assistants are here.

Yesterday afternoon W. F. Palmer of the Parker Pen company, took Vernon M. Phares, the chief engineer of public roads, and Deloit Attorney John L. Elsher on an auto tour of the country where the roads are to be built. They visited Beloit and Clinton and Mr. Phares was left at Clinton Junction, where he took a train for Chicago. From there he proceeded to Bowling Green, Ky., where similar work is being done.

However, lunch at present employed at the golf club has been engaged as steward of the new club and until his contract with the golf club is ended, October first, the work will be done by his brother, John Lynch, and who is now in charge of the club's work. The house rules and other work of a similar nature, the work of the lodge last evening, and general approval of the arrangements of the new rooms was expressed. The lodge has now two hundred members and is steadily growing.

WOMAN THROWN FROM RIG ON MILTON AVE.

Mrs. Frank McDermott and Daughter of Janesville Town Injured While Driving by Steam Roller.

While attempting to pass the city steam roller on Milton avenue Monday afternoon, Mrs. Frank McDermott and daughter, who live one mile north of the County Farm in the town of Janesville, were thrown from their rig and the daughter's back was injured. The women were approaching the roller from the rear, it is declared, when Martin Costello, helper on the roller, started them about the machine. Mrs. McDermott said she was not afraid and as the horse was approaching the roller it slipped to the side of the street, the horse striking a telephone pole and throwing the occupants to the ground. The daughter's back is said to have been injured in the fall and Mrs. McDermott was bruised about the body. The women were cared for at a home nearby the scene of the accident until Dr. George W. H. Minick and other men reached the still and broken rig of the horses.

TALKED OF LANDS IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Chas. M. Covell of the Canadian Pacific Tells Local Investors of Alberta's Advantages.

Chas. M. Covell of the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company, met a number of local men last night in the office of W. J. Lits & Co., and talked interestingly of the lands and plans of his company. Quite a number of prospective investors of settlers have become interested through the Lits agency. In the Southern Alberta lands, and the purpose of Mr. Covell's visit was to explain more fully all the conditions existing in that fertile region. Those who met Mr. Covell and talked with him concerning this wonderful country were more than impressed with the opportunities in the Alberta district and with the certainty, now that these lands are under irrigation, of its becoming one of the most important stock raising districts in America.

Mr. Covell is conservative in his statements and carefully avoided giving anything but exact facts, and this strengthened the confidence which his hearers already had in the Alberta district and the manner in which it is being developed.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is spending about $12,000,000 to develop this country and put it under irrigation and it is appealing only to the better class of settlers. This fact alone will make the region most desirable for farmers and stock raisers and will do much to assure its future.

Probably no other land in the country has such a uniformly deep black soil. The entire strip which is being developed will average 4 to 5 feet of black soil, and many wells have been dug to a depth of over 100 feet without striking anything but this rich black soil.

W. J. Lits & Company will conduct an excursion to Southern Alberta Tuesday, August 6, and will be glad to furnish full information to any inquirers.

OHIO IS PLEDGED TO SUPPORT TAFT

REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE ENDORSES HIS CANDIDACY.

FORAKER IS DEFEATED

Effort of His Friends to Prevent Action is Futile — Resolution Praises Him and Dick.

Columbus, O., July 31.—The candidacy of William H. Taft, secretary of war, for the Republican nomination for president, was endorsed by the Republican state committee Tuesday by a vote of 15 to 6. The endorsement carried with it a declaration that the Republicans of Ohio are opposed "to the elimination from public life of Senators Foraker and Dick."

Although beaten by a decisive vote in all the preliminary contests, the adherents of Senator Foraker in the committee refused to accept the olive branch extended by the Taft supporters, and when the resolution, as amended, was finally adopted, no effort was made to make the action of the committee unanimous.

Wording of Resolution.
The resolution as amended and finally adopted by the committee is as follows:

"Be it resolved by the Republican state central committee of Ohio, that we believe the great majority of the people of Ohio, convinced of the high character, great ability and distinguished services of Secretary Taft, endorse his candidacy for the presidency, and, further,

"We declare that the Republicans of Ohio overwhelmingly desire that the name of the Hon. William Howard Taft be presented to the nation as Ohio's candidate for president and that the Republicans of other states be invited to cooperate with the Republicans of Ohio to secure his nomination in 1908."

"And be it further resolved, that we emphatically declare that the Republicans of Ohio are opposed to the elimination from public life of Senators J. B. Foraker and Charles Dick, whose services to the party and state have been distinguished by ability, wisdom and patriotism."

Opposed by Foraker.
The endorsement of Secretary Taft's candidacy by the committee was vigorously opposed by Senator Foraker, who, upon the eve of the meeting of the committee, openly voiced his dissent to the proposition. The senior senator from Ohio controlled seven of the 21 members of the committee on all votes except that taken upon the adoption of the resolution endorsing Taft. A. W. McDonald, of the Sixteenth district, broke with the Foraker forces on the final ballot, which stood 15 to 6.

The Taft resolution was presented to the committee, as soon as it had convened in the Neil house Tuesday afternoon, by Senator N. F. Overturn, of the Eighth district, who made a brief speech in support of it. C. B. McCoy, of the Seventeenth district, who led the Foraker forces, raised the point of order that the committee was not following the order of business set forth in the call for the meeting issued by Chairman Brown. The chairman ruled that the order was not well taken and Mr. McCoy appealed from the decision of the chair, which was sustained by a vote of 12 to 7.

Olive Branch Is Refused.
It was at this stage of the proceedings that the amendment to the resolution, declaring that the Republicans of Ohio are opposed "to the elimination from public life of Senators Foraker and Dick," was offered by W. H. Phelps, of the Fifth district. Committee Chairman Gould, who is warden of the Ohio penitentiary, endeavored to block action at this time by a motion to adjourn. On a roll call the motion was defeated, 14 to 7. The Phelps amendment was then put to a vote and adopted, 11 to 10, all the Foraker members and three of the radical Taft supporters voting against it. The resolution as amended was then adopted.

A. I. Vorys, the manager of the Taft campaign, declared Tuesday night the action of the committee was important in that it gave assurance to other states that Secretary Taft had the support of his party in Ohio and would be backed by the delegation from this state in the next national Republican convention.

STRANGLER IS NOT FOUND

DEATHS OF TWO WOMEN IN NEW YORK STILL A MYSTERY.

Police Believe Same Person Committed Both Murders—Body of One Victim Identified.

New York, July 31.—At a late hour Tuesday night no arrests had been made in the cases of the two women who were strangled to death and whose bodies were discovered, one Monday night and the other Tuesday. Detectives have been hard at work on the cases, but have been unable to find any trace of the murderer or murderers.

The woman who was found dead with a necktie knotted around her throat in a boarding house in Twenty-second street has been identified under several names. It seems probable that she is Mrs. Sophia Kohler, wife of Jacob Kohler, of Buffalo. The police have discovered that she lived at different times in Brooklyn and Jersey City. The body was identified as that of a woman who called herself Mrs. May Graham, and who has recently lived in a boarding house in east Twenty-seventh street. It appears that she changed her name frequently. The woman with whom she boarded in Twenty-seventh street gave the police a fair description of two men who often called on her there and the police hope to be able to find them.

The police have as yet found no clue as to the identity of the woman whose body was found in an arway in East Ninetieth street. They believe, however, that both crimes were committed by the same person, as both bodies were mutilated in the same manner.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 31.—One of the women strangled to death in New York is probably Mrs. Jacob Kohler, who was separated, it is said, from her husband in Tomawanda about a year ago and went to New York to live. Jacob Kohler said Tuesday afternoon that he had not seen his wife for four years.

At the Kohler home here, it was said that Mrs. Kohler was formerly Miss Sophia Trainer, of Toronto, and that she had a father and two sisters living there. Mrs. Kohler was about 32 years of age and was married to Jacob Kohler about 12 years ago.

ADDS MYSTERY TO COLORADO TRAGEDY

A. R. RUMBAUGH, FRIEND OF MISS MATTHEWS, SHOOTS HIMSELF.

DYING IN THE HOSPITAL

He Knew Her, C. A. Coey, Dr. H. A. Thomas and Others Mixed Up in the Strange Case.

Colorado Springs, Col., July 31.—Amos R. Rumbaugh, of Washington, D. C., a close friend of Miss Laura Matthews, the young woman who committed suicide near Broadmoor Sunday night, added horror and mystery to the gruesome case by shooting himself through the head Tuesday afternoon in the same manner adopted by Miss Matthews, and is lying in the hospital to which he was taken for treatment.

Rumbaugh committed the act in his room at the Alta Vista hotel. The hour when the fatal shot was fired is not known, as it was not heard by anyone, and the deed was discovered only when officers went to his room to ascertain why he had not responded to the subpoena to attend the coroner's inquest over Miss Matthews' body.

Close Friend of Miss Matthews.
That the act of Rumbaugh was the direct result of the death of Miss Matthews is not doubted. He was to have appeared Tuesday afternoon as a witness at the coroner's inquest to tell what he knew of his friend's trade end. Rumbaugh claimed to be but a chance acquaintance of the girl, but it developed that he knew her in Chicago, and also knew C. A. Coey, the wealthy Chicagoan, and Dr. H. A. Thomas of the "101 Ranch." He was frequently a member of parties at which Miss Matthews and the other men referred to were members.

Rumbaugh was the one who accompanied Miss Green, the nurse, to the lively stable about five o'clock Monday morning to see if the actress' horse had returned. It was he who sent the telegram to Coey demanding that he "do the right thing by the girl," and it was with him that Miss Matthews left the letter in which was enclosed another letter to Coey.

Others May Be Entangled.
The officers have not yet examined Rumbaugh's papers and effects. If he did not destroy the letter left him by Miss Matthews, together with the letter to Coey, it is believed they will show startling facts that may entangle people of prominence. The telegram sent by Rumbaugh to Coey, taken in the light of his suicide, has more meaning than before. It was as follows:

"Laura committed suicide on account of you. Letters left behind. Send $200 at once for expenses."

The public officers say that the letter shows that Rumbaugh knew Coey well enough to speak to him of "Laura" and to threaten him. Rumbaugh was about 28 years of age and was a son of a wealthy Washington, D. C., family. A service medal of honor shows that he served with distinction in the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry in the Philippines.

Late Tuesday night it was said by a guest of the Acadia hotel, where Miss Matthews was registered, that she feared Rumbaugh, who was infatuated with her.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD.

An old sore or ulcer is only a symptom, an outlet for the impurities and poisons which are circulating in the blood, and as long as this vital fluid remains in this impure and contaminated state the place will never heal. It may scab over and appear to be getting well, but a fresh outpouring of diseased matter from the blood starts it again, and thus it goes on, sometimes for years, continually growing worse, and slowly sapping away the strength and vitality of the sufferer.

There are many ways by which the blood may become contaminated and poisoned. A long spell of fever, or other sickness, breeds disease germs in the system, the failure of nature's eliminative members to remove the waste and refuse matter of the body, the excessive use of minerals in certain diseases, all infect the blood with morbid matter and germs, which sooner or later manifest their presence by a sore or ulcer which refuses to heal under the ordinary treatment of salves, washes, lotions, powders, etc.

A boil, blister, pimple, burn or even a slight scratch, often develops into a festering or discharging ulcer if the system is run down or the blood depreciated from any cause.

Persons with an inherited blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers. Being born with an unhealthy blood supply, the different parts of the body are never fully nourished, and when middle life is reached or passed and the vigor and strength of the system begins to weaken and wane, the tissues in some weak point break down and a chronic sore or ulcer is formed, and kept open by the constant drainage of impure matter from the blood. How aggravating and stubborn an old sore can be is best known by those who have nursed and treated one for years, applying salves, washes, powders, etc., with no good results. The place remains and continues to grow worse by eating deeper into the surrounding flesh, festering, discharging, sometimes throbbing with pain, and gradually undermining the constitution by its unhealthy action on the system.

It is a great mistake to expect to cure these places with external applications. True this treatment assists in keeping the parts clean, and are beneficial in this way, but do not reach the real trouble which is in the blood. The practice of cutting out the diseased parts and even scraping the bone beneath, is often resorted to, but these severe measures seldom do any permanent good. The sore may be removed, and for a time heal over, but the same poison that produced it the first time is still in the blood, because The Blood Cannot Be Cut Away, and The Sore Will Return.

The only treatment that can do any real good is a competent blood purifier—one that goes to the very bottom of the trouble and removes the cause, and for this purpose nothing has ever been found to equal S. S. S. It goes down into the circulation, drives out all poison and morbid matter, reduces the inflammation, and by sending pure, rich blood to the diseased parts, instead of feeding them with impurities, allows the sore to heal naturally and permanently. Not only does S. S. S. purify the blood of all poisons and germs, but builds it up from its weakened and impoverished state, making it strong and healthy and able to supply every part of the body with sufficient and proper nourishment to keep it in perfect health. If you have a sore that is slow in healing, do not depend upon external applications alone, nor experiment with unknown medicines, but begin the use of S. S. # THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY C. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

She had resumed her seat at the desk and partly regained her self-possession. "Why do you ask? What is your interest in this matter?"

"I don't know," she replied evasively. "This case interests me, that's all. It's rather romantic. Your son loves this man's daughter. He is in disgrace—many seem to think unjustly." Her voice trembled with emotion as she continued: "I have heard from one source or another—you know I am acquainted with a number of newspaper men—I have heard that life no longer has any interest for him, that he is not only disgraced but beggared, that he is playing away slowly, dying of a broken heart, that his wife and daughter are in despair. Tell me, do you think he deserves such a fate?"

"What have you got there?"

Ryder remained thoughtful a moment, and then he replied:

"No, I do not—no!"

Thinking that she had touched his sympathy, Shirley followed up her advantage:

"Oh, then, why not come to his rescue—out, who are so rich, so powerful; you, who can move the scales of justice at your will—save this man, from humiliation and disgrace?"

Ryder shrugged his shoulders, and his face expressed weariness, as if the subject had begun to bore him.

"My dear girl, you don't understand. His removal is necessary."

Shirley's face became set and hard. There was a contemptuous ring to her words as she retorted:

"Yet you admit that he may be innocent?"

"Even if I knew it as a fact, I could not move."

"Do you mean to say that if you had positive proof?" She pointed to the drawer in the desk where he had placed the letters. "If you had absolute proof in that drawer, for instance, wouldn't you help him then?"

Ryder's face grew cold and inscrutable; he now wore his fighter's mask.

"Not even if I had the absolute proof in that drawer?" he snapped viciously.

"Have you absolute proof in that drawer?" she demanded.

"I repeat that even if I had I could not expose the man who have been my friends. It's noblesse oblige in politics as well as in society, you know."

He smiled again at her, as if he had recovered his good humor after their sharp passages at arms.

"Oh, it's politics! That's what the papers said. And you believe him innocent. Well, you must have some grounds for your belief."

"Not necessarily."

"You said that even if you had the proofs you could not produce them without sacrificing your friends, showing that your friends are interested in having this man put off the bench?" She stopped and burst into hysterical laughter. "Oh, I think you're having a joke at my expense," she went on. "Just to see how far you can lead me. I dare say Judge Rossmore deserves all he gets. Oh, yes, I'm sure he deserves it." She rose and walked to the other side of the room to conceal her emotion.

Ryder watched her curiously.

"My dear young lady, how you take this matter to heart!"

"Please forgive me," laughed Shirley, and averting her face to conceal the fact that her eyes were filled with tears. "It's my artistic temperament. I suppose. It's always getting me into trouble. It depended so strongly to my sympathies, this story of hopeless love between two young people, with the father of the girl hounded by corrupt politicians and unscrupulous financiers. It was too much for me. Ah, ah, I forgot where I was!"

She leaned against a chair, sick and faint from nervousness, her whole body trembling. At that moment there was a knock at the library door, and Jefferson Ryder appeared. Not seeing Shirley, whose back was toward him, he advanced to greet his father.

"You told me to come up in five minutes," he said. "I just wanted to say—"

"Miss Green," said Ryder senior, addressing Shirley and ignoring whoever it was that the young man wanted to say, "this is my son Jefferson. Jeff, this is Miss Green."

Jefferson looked in the direction indicated and stood as if rooted to the floor. He was so surprised that he was struck dumb. Finally, recovering himself, he exclaimed:

"Shirley?"

"Yes, Shirley Green, the author," explained Ryder senior, not noticing the none of familiar recognition in his exclamation.

Shirley advanced and, holding out her hand to Jefferson, said demurely: "I am very pleased to meet you, Mr. Ryder." Then quickly in an undertone she added: "Be careful. Don't betray me."

Jefferson was so astounded that he did not see the outstretched hand. All he could do was to stand and stare first at her and then at his father.

"Why don't you shake hands with her?" said Ryder senior. "She won't bite you." Then he added: "Miss Green is going to do some literary work for me, so we shall see a great deal of her. It's too bad you're going away."

He chuckled at his own pleasantry.

"Father," hinted Jefferson, "I came to say that I've changed my mind. You did not want me to go, and I feel I ought to do something to please you."

"Good boy," said Ryder, pleased. "Now you're talking common sense." He turned to Shirley, who was getting ready to make her departure. "Well, Miss Green, we may consider the work at the price I named and finish it as soon as you can. Of course you will have to consult me a good deal as you go along, so I think it would be better for you to come and stay here while the work is progressing. Mrs. Ryder can give you a suit of rooms to your self, where you will be undisturbed, and you will have all your material close at hand. What do you say?"

Shirley was silent for a moment. She looked first at Ryder and then at his son, and from them her glance went to the little drawer on the left hand side of the desk. Then she said quietly:

"As you think best, Mr. Ryder, I am quite willing to do the work here."

Ryder senior escorted her to the top of the landing and watched her as she passed down the grand staircase, ushered by the gorgeously uniformed butlers, to the front door and the street.

CHAPTER XIII.

SHIRLEY entered upon her new duties in the Ryder household two days later. She had returned to her rooms the evening of her meeting with the financier in a state bordering upon hysteria. The day's events had been so extraordinary that it seemed to her they could not be real and that she must be in a dream.

The car ride to Seventy-fourth street, the interview in the library, the discovery of her father's letters, the offer to write the biography and, what to her was still more important, the invitation to go and live in the Ryder home—all these incidents were so remarkable and unusual that it was only with difficulty that she persuaded herself that they were not figments of a disordered brain.

But it was all true enough. The next morning's mail brought a letter from Mrs. Ryder, who wrote to the effect that Mr. Ryder would like the work to begin at once and adding that a suit of rooms would be ready for her the following afternoon. Shirley did not hesitate. Everything was to be gained by making the Ryder residence her headquarters, her father's very life depending upon the successful outcome of her present mission, and this untold opportunity practically insured success. She immediately wrote to Mrs. Ryder, one letter was to her mother, saying that she was extending her visit beyond the time originally planned. The other letter was to Scott, who told him all about the interview with Ryder, informed him of the discovery of the letters and after explaining the nature of the work offered to her, said that he'd address for the next few weeks would be in care of John Barrett Ryder. All was going better than she had dared to hope. Everything seemed to favor their plan. Her first step, of course, while in the Ryder home would be to secure possession of her father's letters, and these she would dispatch at once to Massapequa, so they could be laid before the senate without delay.

So, after settling accounts with her landlady and packing up her few belongings, Shirley lost no time in transferring herself to the more luxurious quarters provided for her in the $10,000 mansion uptown.

At the Ryder house she was received cordially and with every mark of consideration. The housekeeper came down to the main hall to greet her when she arrived and escorted her to the suite of rooms, comprising a small working library, a bedroom simply but tastefully furnished in pink and white and a private bathroom which had been specially prepared for her convenience and comfort, and here presently she was joined by Mrs. Ryder.

"Dear me," exclaimed the financier's wife, staring curiously at Shirley, "what a young girl you are to have made such a stir with a book! How did you do it? I'm sure I couldn't. It's as much as I can do to write a letter, and half the time that's not legible."

"Oh, it wasn't so hard!" laughed Shirley. "It was the subject that appealed rather than any special skill of mine. The trusts and their misdeeds are the favorite topics of the hour. The whole country is talking about nothing else. My book came at the right time, that's all."

"Although 'The American Octopus' was a direct attack on her own husband, Mrs. Ryder secretly admired this young woman who had dared to speak a few blunt truths. It was a courage which, alas, she had always lacked herself, but there was a certain satisfaction in knowing there were women in the world not entirely cowed by the tyrant man."

"I have always wanted a daughter," went on Mrs. Ryder, becoming confidential, while Shirley removed her things and made herself at home. "Girls of your age are so companionable." Then abruptly she asked, "Do your parents live in New York?"

Shirley's face flushed, and she stooped over her trunk to hide her embarrassment.

"No not at present," she answered evasively. "My mother and father are in the country."

She was afraid that more questions of a personal nature would follow, but

HOUSE PASSES THE SENATE HARDMAN-COVINGTON BILL.

Amendments Permit Sale of Alcohol With Restrictions—Gov. Smith's Signature Is Pledged.

Atlanta, Ga., July 31.—The Hardman-Covington prohibition bill, passed by the Georgia senate some days ago, was adopted by the house Tuesday evening by a vote of 139 to 39. Two amendments added to the bill by the house will necessitate its going back to the senate for concurrence, of which there is no doubt, and the bill then will go to Gov. Hoke Smith for his signature, which has been practically pledged, and prohibition will become a law in Georgia.

The amendments permit the sale of pure alcohol by retail druggists on the prescription of a reputable physician and also allow wholesale druggists to carry pure alcohol in stock for sale to retailers only.

The bill prohibits the manufacture or keeping on hand in any place of business the sale or giving away to licensee within the state of any liquor that may produce intoxication. The new law is to become effective January 1, 1908.

After the first fight on the bill last week, in which the opponents of the bill showed their ability to keep the act from its third reading, an agreement was reached making the bill a special order for Tuesday with the provision that a vote should be taken at four o'clock. This program was carried out. Twenty-one amendments were offered. Only two were allowed and both of these were introduced by the prohibitionists. The anti-prohibitionists made their hardest fight to secure the adoption of an amendment to postpone until January, 1909, the date when the bill should become effective. This was lost 128 to 49.

SCHMITZ FILL VACANCIES.

Convicted Mayor of San Francisco Inlets on His Rights.

San Francisco, July 31.—Eugene E. Schmitz, the convicted mayor, Tuesday made appointments to fill the vacancies created by the forced resignations of 14 members of the board of supervisors. Schmitz claims the right of appointment on the ground that he is the rightful mayor of San Francisco.

Schmitz complained that his private mail is being opened by Mayor Taylor. He exhibited several letters addressed to "Hon. Eugene E. Schmitz, San Francisco, personal," which have been all open and marked in indelible pencil. "Opened by Edward R. Taylor,"

"No," sighed Mrs. Ryder. "No one knows that better than I."

The financier's wife was already most favorably impressed with her guest, and she chatted on as if she had known Shirley for years. It was rarely that she had heard so young a woman express such common sense views, and the more she talked with her the less surprised she was that she was the author of a much discussed book. Finally, thinking that Shirley might prefer to be alone, she rose to go, bidding her make herself thoroughly at home and to ring for anything she might wish. A maid had been assigned to look exclusively after her wants, and she could have her meals served in her room or else have them with the family, as she liked. But Shirley, not caring to encounter Mr. Ryder's cold, searching stare more often than necessary, said she would prefer to take her meals alone.

"What a young girl you are to have made such a stir!"

apparently Mrs. Ryder was not in an inquisitive mood, for she asked nothing further. She only said:

"I have a son, but I don't see much of him. You must meet my Jefferson. He is such a nice boy."

Shirley tried to look unconcerned as she replied:

"I met him yesterday. Mr. Ryder introduced him to me."

"Poor lad! He has his troubles, too," went on Mrs. Ryder. "He's in love with a girl, but his father wants him to marry some one else. They're quarreling over it all the time."

"Parents shouldn't interfere in matters of the heart," said Shirley decisively. "What is more serious than the choosing of a life companion, and who are better entitled to make a free selection than they who are going to spend the rest of their days together? Of course it is a father's duty to give his son the benefit of his ripe experience, but to insist on a marriage based only on business interests is little less than a crime. There are considerations more important if the union is to be a happy or a lasting one. The chief thing is that the man should feel real attachment for the woman he marries. Two people who are to live together as man and wife must be compatible in tastes and temper. You cannot mix oil and water. It is these selfish marriages which keep our divorce courts busy. Money alone won't buy happiness in marriage."

"No," sighed Mrs. Ryder. "No one knows that better than I."

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, July 31, 1867.—No Trace Yet.—A thorough search has been prosecuted incessantly for the little girl whom we noticed as being lost, but no trace has yet been found of her. Her parents are very naturally in great distress over her disappearance.

Game to Europe.—Our former well-known citizen Henry K. Whiton, Esq., was married last week to Miss Lander of Ripon and the happy couple soon start for Europe on their bridal tour. The good wishes of many friends attend them.

The Match Game.—The Bowler City and the West in Star clubs of this city played their match game yesterday afternoon. At the close of the eighth inning the Bowler City had scored 70 and the Western Star 21.

On the ninth inning the Western Star made 18 with only one man out when the Bowler City threw up the game on account of darkness and the umpire awarded the game to the Western Star.

On Trial.—The case of swindling of which we spoke a day or two since seems to have been rather a snarl and battery case which has been under investigation today before Justice Baker. The plaintiff was Mrs. Mayfield and the defendant James Lawton. Some severe blows were given on both sides and Mrs. Mayfield the plaintiff would neither put one of his fingers between his opponent's teeth to hold him off and had it badly bitten. The affair took place just at night in the presence of witness and not at night as we supposed when our former paragraph was written.

PROHIBITION FOR GEORGIA

HOUSE PASSES THE SENATE HARDMAN-COVINGTON BILL.

Amendments Permit Sale of Alcohol With Restrictions—Gov. Smith's Signature Is Pledged.

Atlanta, Ga., July 31.—The Hardman-Covington prohibition bill, passed by the Georgia senate some days ago, was adopted by the house Tuesday evening by a vote of 139 to 39. Two amendments added to the bill by the house will necessitate its going back to the senate for concurrence, of which there is no doubt, and the bill then will go to Gov. Hoke Smith for his signature, which has been practically pledged, and prohibition will become a law in Georgia.

The amendments permit the sale of pure alcohol by retail druggists on the prescription of a reputable physician and also allow wholesale druggists to carry pure alcohol in stock for sale to retailers only.

The bill prohibits the manufacture or keeping on hand in any place of business the sale or giving away to licensee within the state of any liquor that may produce intoxication. The new law is to become effective January 1, 1908.
